Immerse yourself in experiential learning – Spend the Summer in Rome with East Tennessee State University and ACCENT. Explore Italian monuments, churches, museums and galleries, as Rome becomes an extension of your classroom while you are studying the art and architecture of the city. Participants in the Summer in Rome Program live in double occupancy rooms in shared student apartments. ACCENT Rome Center staff also provide support and guidance to students studying abroad.

If you have any questions about any aspect of this program, please feel free to contact the INTD program coordinator: Dean Isham - ishamd@etsu.edu 423-439-7833 for INTD program questions or Kevin Varney - varneyk@etsu.edu 423-439-6167 for all other questions.

Student Services: The ACCENT Study Centers
Accent is an independent study abroad program provider with a multinational team of staff members who all have personal experiences in study abroad. With more than 25 years of experience coordinating high-quality overseas study programs, ACCENT works in partnership with U.S. colleges and universities to develop academically challenging and culturally enriching overseas study experiences in Paris, Florence, London, Madrid, Istanbul and Rome. Each city is home to a fully staffed ACCENT Center that serves as a home base for program participants. The ACCENT San Francisco Center coordinates program enrollment and pre-departure preparation for students which helps to make living overseas as smooth as possible.

The fully-staffed ACCENT Rome Center provides on-site support services to program participants. The ACCENT Rome Center is located in the historic city center near Piazza Navona. The ACCENT Center is open during the week for students to use the resource and lending library, ask questions, check their email in the computer lab and collect their mail. The ACCENT staff in Rome provide a wide variety of on-site student services and are an invaluable resource for students who want to find out more about their host city.

Application and Enrollment
The Studio Rome Program is open to any INTD student that has completed the first two years of INTD coursework and is over the age of 18 at the time of application. Please note the dates above are only the program dates in Rome. There will be one week of coursework after return, dates TBD. Space is limited. Students should send in the enclosed application with the $500 non-refundable first payment as soon as possible. Upon receipt of your application and first payment, ACCENT and East Tennessee State University will send you additional application and enrollment forms. Applications must be received by November 2, 2015 and will be accepted as long as space is still available. Beyond this date, limited enrollment is allowed as space permits.
Program Faculty

Jeremy Ross, an Assistant Professor in the Engineering Technology Program and Chief of Staff for External Operations at ETSU, serves as the Director of the Rome Program. He holds a Bachelor of Architecture degree from the University of Tennessee and a Master of Science in Engineering Technology degree from ETSU. Jeremy has studied architecture and art history while living in Rome and attending Temple University. In addition to Jeremy’s efforts at ETSU, he has served as a principal with Ken Ross Architects, Inc. and continues to consult with the firm. The company has produced architectural works in over eighteen states and many award winning projects. Jeremy has been involved in the design, construction, and management of many of these projects and numerous buildings on-campus.

Keith Johnson is Chairman and a full professor in the Department of Engineering Technology, Surveying and Digital Media at East Tennessee State University. He holds a Bachelor’s degree and Master’s degree in Technology from North Carolina A&T State University and a Ph.D. in Technology from The Ohio State University. He has studied and taught architectural design for over two decades.

Dean Isham is an Associate Professor and Coordinator for the Interior Design Program. Professor Isham is an award-winning teacher and has been teaching university level interior design courses since the fall of 1994. His teaching has focused on visualization skills and the beginning design student. His creative activities have produced award-winning designs in architecture, 2D, and 3D categories.

Kristi Julian is an Assistant Professor in the Interior Design Program. She holds a Ph.D. from Auburn University and has been a state registered interior designer since 2000. Her teaching has focused on human behavior, sustainability and universal design. During the last five years she has been actively engaged in facilities design and construction.

Affiliate Faculty Members – Faculty members from the Rome Study Center will be used for various lab instruction and site visits

Studio Rome Curriculum

Cultural learning is an integral part of all courses taught in the Summer in Rome. A one-day excursion outside Rome to Pompeii, Orvieto, or another Roman town is included in the program. Museum entry costs, transportation, and a guide are also provided. Transportation for a day-trip to Tivoli and Ostia will be provided. Additional excursions may be added.

Architectural History – ENTC 3050 (3 Credits) substitutes for ARTH 2010 or 2020 for INTD students
This course will examine Rome through its art, architecture and construction with careful attention to historical contexts and interrelated meanings. Students will gain a significant understanding of Rome’s Complex Urban development over the past 2,000 years. All participants will be required to keep a photo or sketch journal of the experience and join in making an on-campus presentation upon returning home.

Global Sustainability – ENTC 4957 (3 Credits) design related elective for INTD students
This course fosters an understanding of sustainable design from a global perspective. Students study the built environment as they develop an increased environmental awareness. It examines the social, behavioral, cultural, and technological dimensions of the built environment. The implication of design as it relates to the individual and community well-being is explored. Industry presentations and field trips promote the development of design ideas related to new materials. The result of this course will be an understanding of ways in which the current environmental challenges may be solved through a rediscovery of traditional wisdom and current innovative processes.

Studio 8: Senior Design Studio – INTD 4215 (4 Credits)
This course explores how culture influences and informs current design decisions. Emphasis will placed on the analysis and identification of how key cultural aspects impact the design process through the exploration of hospitality design in historical significant locations.

Made in Italy Design – ENTC 3020 Tech & Society (3 Credits) general education humanities elective for INTD students
This course will look at the Masters of Italian design in the period following the war until today. Emphasis will be placed on the prime elements of Made in Italy design….Innovative use of Materials, Sophisticated production techniques and Quality of Craftsmanship through a series of product based workshops based on the historical dialogue between technique and aesthetic. (This course could also be embedded in the Design Studio for extended credit.)

Excursions are chosen based on academic curriculum and are subject to change.

Student Quotes

Victoria Alexander, Interior Design
“It was a chance to see the beginnings of the field I was going into. It was absolutely one of the best and memorable experiences I have ever had.”

Ben Daugherty, MBA
“You can’t get any more surreal than sitting on a bench or a curb and looking up at the Coliseum, the Roman Forum or Circus Maximus. This is a very different learning experience.”

Kristen Winstead, Elementary Education
“It is impossible to visit Rome and not be affected by it. The scope and grandeur of all it has to offer cannot be fully conveyed in words. Discovering the Roman culture was a dream, and one that I pray I have again.”

Jonathan Brooks, Digital Media
"I have always been interested in art and history. Going to Rome and seeing in person the art that I had admired my entire life, as well as getting to walk through history, was by far the best experience of my life!"
